Big Five Tours & Expeditions on “A-List”

T+L ranks two Big Five specialists as top travel agents for 2015

Stuart, FL (2015) – Big Five Tours & Expeditions is pleased to announce that two of its Destination Specialists have been named to Travel+Leisure's 2015 A-List of the best travel advisors in the business once again. This is the seventh year that Big Five's team members were selected from among thousands of travel agents.

Ashish Sanghrajka, Big Five's president, who has 15 years in the field of travel, made the list for his intimate understanding of both India and Kenya. He has traveled extensively throughout both countries. He has been on this prestigious list annually since 2009.

Volker Altvater, with 26 years in travel, was cited for his extensive knowledge of South Africa. He also brings his expertise for family travel and his skills as a trained sous chef to help evaluate camps, lodges and hotels for his clients. He has been on the list since 2012.

“We congratulate our colleagues who received this honor again this year,” said CEO Mahen Sanghrajka. “All of our Destination Specialists have extensive knowledge as well as personal experience to offer our guests. They receive hundreds of hours of training both in the office and in the field to insure they have the most accurate and current information.”

Big Five offers customized journeys designed to be adventures of a lifetime to Africa and the Middle East, Asia and the Orient, South and Central America, and South Pacific.
